

Trefoil Tradition

The Trefoil Tradition

Our founder, Juliette Gordon Low, patented the design for the original three-leafed Trefoil membership pin in 1914. The three leaves stand for the three parts of the Girl Scout Promise, and the design contains the traditional American symbols of an eagle, a shield, a shaft of arrows, and an olive branch. The design of a new contemporary Trefoil membership pin was led by the first African-American President of GSUSA, Dr. Gloria Scott. During her tenure from 1975 to 1978, she called the organization to a higher awareness of diversity and inclusiveness. As a result, the contemporary Trefoil membership pin features three forward-looking profiles, symbolizing Girl Scouts' continuing commitment to be a safe place where all girls feel welcomed.

Girl Scouts affirms that each girl has unique talents and potential that deserve to be fostered in a positive, girl-led environment with the help of a Troop Leader and caring adults. According to the most recent report from the Girl Scout Research Institute, 81% of Girl Scout alums surveyed felt competent and capable in the activities they viewed as important, compared to just 67% of non-alums. By empowering each girl to set goals, face challenges, and be the best version of herself, Girl Scouts creates our community's future leaders and ensures that every girl lives a life of courage, confidence, and character.

What is the Trefoil Tradition Giving Circle?

The Trefoil holds the foundation and long history of Girl Scouts, and we invite Trefoil Tradition ($1,000-$4,999) members to support this legacy that started more than 100 years ago. This yearly investment supports our annual operating costs to reach and serve more girls. Trefoil Tradition members are invited to attend two exclusive annual events that will touch on pertinent topics facing girls and women in Arizona and multiple council events throughout the year to see Girl Scouting in action.
